Art Unit: 1644

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-31 are drawn to an antibody and composition, classified in class 424, subclass 133.1 and class 530, subclass 387.3.
 - II. Claim 32 is drawn to a nucleic acid, classified in class 536, subclass 23.53.
 - III. Claim 33-36, drawn to a method of making an antibody, classified in class 435, subclass 69.6.
 - IV. Claims 37,38 a method of treatment, classified in class 424, subclass 154.1.
 - V. Claim 39 is drawn to a immunoassay method, classified in class 435, subclass 7.2.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
3. Inventions I and II are different products. These products are structurally and functionally distinct and have different uses. Invention I is drawn to an antibody, while invention II is drawn to nucleic acids. These products are structurally different and have different uses (eg. hybridization assays using invention II, versus immunopurification or immunoassay using the claimed antibody). Therefore they are novel and unobvious in view of each other and are patentably distinct.
4. Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the claimed antibody can be made by chemical peptide synthesis.
5. Inventions II and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the claimed nucleic acids could be used in hybridization assays.

6. Invention II is not used in the method of inventions IV or V.
7. Inventions IV and V are drawn to different methods that use different ingredients to achieve different goals. Invention IV is drawn to a method of treatment, whilst invention V is drawn to a immunoassay method. Therefore they are novel and unobvious in view of each other and are patentably distinct.
8. Inventions I and IV/V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the claimed antibody could be used for immunopurification.
9. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
10. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

Art Unit: 1644

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
